NeoPollard Interactive Congratulates the Virginia Lottery on Tremendous iLottery Success and New Daily Draw Games

LANSING, Michigan, March 14, 2022 /CNW/ – NeoPollard Interactive LLC (“NeoPollard Interactive” or “NPI”), jointly owned by Pollard Banknote Limited (“Pollard Banknote”; TSX: PBL) and NeoGames S.A. (Nasdaq: NGMS), congratulates the Virginia Lottery (“Lottery”) on its tremendous iLottery success and the recent addition of its Daily Draw Games to the platform.

The Lottery’s Pick 3 and Pick 4 Daily Draw Games with Fireball Add-On plus Cash 5 with EZ-Match, are now live on valottery.com. The popular retail games expand the Virginia Lottery’s robust iLottery offering with known retail experiences. The Draw Games leverage NPI’s NeoDraw Central Gaming System (“CGS”), part of NPI’s comprehensive and innovative approach to delivering turnkey, best-in-class iLottery solutions, powering the most profitable iLottery programs in North America.

The addition of Pick 3 and Pick 4 Daily Draw Games builds on the Lottery’s unmatched success in iLottery. The Virginia Lottery’s July 2020 launch of iLottery marked the most profitable iLottery introduction in North America. By implementing the iLottery channel, the Lottery has been able to add a significant revenue stream, building upon its core offerings. The iLottery channel has added more than $1.7 billion in top line sales achieved since its launch, and now represents over 34% of total lottery sales.

NPI’s NeoDraw CGS has proven to deliver greater flexibility and functionality that is required by the pace of consumer activity in the eCommerce environment, delivering unparalleled results for digital lotteries and is the iLottery Central System of choice across all of NPI’s U.S. partners. Over NPI’s U.S. network, the performance of draw-based games that are also sold online achieve between 20-40% of sales through the online channel using NeoDraw, which operates independently of existing retail central gaming systems.

“We are very excited to be the Lottery’s partner as it experiences this success,” said Liz Siver, General Manager of NeoPollard Interactive. “As we have demonstrated with the Virginia Lottery, NPI is committed to succeeding across all iLottery product lines for our partners, as shown by our diverse game portfolio, which helps lotteries modernize their offerings to meet player expectations. We are proud of our ongoing partnership with the Virginia Lottery and honored to be a part of the Lottery’s mission to generate revenue for K-12 education in the Commonwealth.”

“We recognize the importance of a fast pace of innovation through our digital program at the Virginia Lottery,” said Rob Wesley, Director of Digital of the Virginia Lottery. “The introduction of daily games provides convenient access to players, giving them an option for when and where they choose to play. Expanding our game portfolio is an essential component of our acquisition and growth strategies. Our partnership with NPI comes with a rich roadmap of features and enhancements that keep our iLottery offering competitive as the gaming landscape and consumer expectations continue to shift.”

For over 30 years, the Virginia Lottery has been committed to growing and giving back. Since 1999, the Virginia Lottery has contributed more than $11 billion for K-12 public education in Virginia. To learn more, visit www.valottery.com.
